10 August 2015: Rosset: What is a muse in the lab?

Prof. Saharon Rosset, EJSCB member from the Department of Statistics and Operations Research, participated in a TV children program “What is a muse in the lab?”. The program presents scientific subjects to children in a comprehensible, interesting and nontrivial way.

During the program, aired on August 10, 2015 in TV channels 22 and 23, Prof. Rosset engaged a group of curious children and their host in a discussion on the meaning of statistics and its uses, including demonstration of fun examples and games.

Watch the program here: